

RACE TO KACE

This Lap

Kamper Ruth patiently awaits her cabinmates who arrive on Monday. #tokenkamper

In the spirit of the amazing race to KACE, director Kim and Nurse Marcia give it their all to reach the finish line. #beepbeep

Record breaking temperatures and high winds did not stop these die-hard ballers from shredding up the court. #KOBE

Kamper gets lost in an inflatable obstacle course. Luckily, high blood sugar from supper saved the day. #beargrylls #sugarrush

The Pit Crew Prepares For An Amazing Race

It was a hot and windy day on Lake Cormorant, and the Kamp KACE staff was eager to start this long awaited week of fun. There were many hugs shared, many stories retold, and an infectious energy spreading as they waited to meet their new Kampers. After arrival, Kampers met their new bunkmates and toured the Kampground. They got to escape the heat by swimming in the lake and playing on inflatable games from Games Galore, followed by an ice cream social. Once the heat and wind settled, staff and Kampers ended the day with campfire songs and a skit from the CITs.

This year marks the 35th anniversary of Kamp KACE, which was created to give young cancer survivors a chance to let loose and just be kids. There were many new practices added to the experience, such as covid testing at registration and a high staff-to-kamper ratio. While Kamper safety practices looked different this year, the tradition of having a blast remains unchanged. Throughout the week, Kampers will enjoy horse races, a movie night, and a Kamp dance. Let the fun begin!

“Everyone is best friends at Kamp.”

A Race for the Ages

This year, the majority of Kampers are first-timers. They rushed into Kamp at their assigned registration times, unsure of the adventures that they would encounter this week. The seasoned Kampers were happy to share their love of Kamp and welcome them into the Kamp KACE family.

Daaaaaaddy Jaws Sighting

While many variations of this story have been told, the real story of a pop sensational shark (doot doo, doo doo-doo doot doo) was told in its original version. Kampers gasped as they learned of a lady who went swimming in a big ocean, and were stunned by how the story unfolded.

Heat Wave Advisory: Sources say it is no match for this cool crew of Kampers!