

RACE TO KACE

This Lap

Kampers made their final catches for the week. #fishingpros

Hunter gets a bullseye in archery! #epicvictorydance

Dr. Chihawk joins the archery activities with kampers. #laserfocused

Kentucky Derby Comes To Kamp KACE

On your marks...get set....GO!
 Kamp Kace was transformed into Churchill Downs for the day as we celebrated the Kentucky Derby. The cafeteria was transformed into an elegant grandstand complete with vines to provide a festive backdrop for the coming events. A real-life horse race was held in the meadow between wranglers Haley and Sidney, and Cabin C won the off-track bet. Kampers were then treated to a fancy roast beef dinner. The meal left kids happy and energized for what was sure to be a fun-filled Derby Dance later in the evening.

"I peed on the shark." -Anonymous

Dr. K Gives Final Talk at Kamp KACE

Dr. Nathan Kobrinsky, known by most as Dr. K, gave his final talk to kampers on Thursday. This is one of the many traditions Dr. K. has started during his 30 years as a volunteer at Kamp KACE. He spoke of the current healthcare system and how it can be improved with patient/provider partnership. He went on to explain the importance of spending time and listening to patients as a method to improve this partnership. Dr. K postulates that the magic of Kamp KACE is in the connection that kampers make during the week of kamp, and this can help survivors move past their illness on an emotional level. We thank Dr. K and his wife, Janeen, for their many years of kinship, songs, stories, and magic.

Thank You For a Phenomenal Week!

Bigfoot sighting during the Derby event. #itsjesus

Counselor Jerome loses his head on the race track. #greenscreen #photomagic

Birthday girl Emma shows her best Mr. Bean pose

Nurse Marcia poses with some of her babies. #allgrownup

Overheard Kamp KACE

[While applying copious amounts of sunscreen on a camper]
The OG Tina: "As a mother of gingers, I know how to sunscreen kids."

Setting the Story Straight

Contrary to public opinion, counselor Neil is in fact NOT a cheater. He plays fair and square but admits, "I will do almost anything to win."

I'm so proud of myself for not having my phone all week.
-Myrah, Cabin 1

Derby Dance Party

Keeping with Kamp tradition, an all-Kamp dance was held at sunset to celebrate the end to an amazing week at Kamp Kace. Prior to the dance, the mansion was transformed into a beauty salon for campers to have their hair styled and nails painted in preparation for the evenings festivities. Campers and counselors alike danced the night away. Campers indulged in endless amounts of ice cream and snacks to refuel themselves for more dancing. Regardless of age, all campers gave all they've got on the dance floor to close out another incredible week at Kamp Kace.

Let the Light Shine Through

An all Kamp visit to the Memorial Garden was held on Thursday afternoon. This is the most special place at Kamp where we all come together to celebrate how special Kamp Kace is. Survivors released balloons into the sky to honor their journey and to remember those whom we've lost.